EDITORIAL

The Selfish Jewish Parent

THE SELFISH Jewish parent will enroll his child in Hebrew School in the next few weeks.

For if it is nothing else than a concern for the welfare of their children, parents of this day realize that they must give to their children a wholesome understanding of their Jewish heritage if they want them to lead normal lives.

The restless worried child of homes where Jewishness is a by-product of a memory testify to the fallacy that Jewish education is a luxury, much in the line of musical training or dancing lessons. Any sincere parent need only look about him to Jewish youth caught in the thralls of fear over anti-Semitism to the extent that it warps their very lives, to understand that Jewish education is a must in any Jewish home. The Jewish child who knows his heritage and his religion faces the unfriendly world with trepidation to be sure, but with a knowledge of what it's all about. Opposed to him is the child who does not know where to turn because neither in his home or elsewhere has there been given him the pride over or understanding of his Jewishness which is so necessary for sanity these days.

So the wise Jewish parent recognizes that although his child has a full schedule, what with public school and other activities, Jewish education cannot be neglected. If the home is in a community like Indianapolis where an excellent Jewish education set-up provides all the facilities for a modern Jewish education, he is fortunate.

There are too many young Jewish men and women who today blame their parents because they don't know anything about Judaism or their heritage for the point of this editorial to need more elaboration.

FAMILY GETS PURPLE HEART BEFORE ARMY NOTIFICATION

Sgt. Samuel Tobias, son of Mrs. Ida Tobias, 2951 Ruckle St., was injured in France, July 29 and has received the Purple Heart according to a telegram received from the War Department. He received shrapnel wounds in his leg, but has returned to action, the family learned. He was transferred to England by plane after he was wounded.

Sgt. Tobias, who has been in the army nearly four years, was in the first boatload of invasion troops on D-day. He had written his family not to be alarmed if they should hear from the War Department and had sent home his Purple Heart before the official notification was received.

Two of Sgt. Tobias' brothers are also in service. They are Pvt. Oscar Tobias, Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and S.1c. Theodore Tobias of the Coast Guard, Seattle, Wash.

Don't Disappoint the Servicemen— Invite Them to Your Home for Holidays

An appeal for home hospitality for soldiers stationed in the Indianapolis area during the high Holy Days has been issued by Mrs. David Sablosky, chairman of the USO-JWB Home Hospitality committee.

Mrs. Sablosky said that, while efforts are being made to contact families to request hospitality, hostesses are asked to phone in their invitations without waiting to be called. She said every attempt will be made to notify hostesses of assigned guests beforehand, but in some cases this will not be possible because of the limited free time of the boys who make the requests. Assignments will be made beginning Saturday, Sept. 9.

Rabbi Maurice Goldblatt, chairman of the Religious Affairs committee, and Mrs. Mildred Levy, director of the USO-JWB Club, have visited military posts in the area to obtain permission for Jewish servicemen to attend services in Indianapolis. Many invitations will be needed so that none of the boys will be disappointed.

Invitations may be issued by calling Mrs. Sablosky, WAbash 9013, or the USO-JWB Club, HIghland 0550.

The local lodge of B'rith is really going after a B'nai B'rith building to be used as a club house. One prominent Jewish family may donate the building, an important part of which will be dedicated to the memory of Eph Levin. Incidentally, the opening meeting of the lodge sometime this month, will be a large memorial meeting to Eph under the joint sponsorship of Monument lodge of Masons and the local B'nai B'rith.

The Zionists here are arranging an ambitious program for the coming year. There will be eight large meetings, to be opened in October by a banquet at which it is hoped Dr. Stephen S. (RABBI NEUSTADT TALMUD TORAH)

(Monday) 3:45 P. M.

Jews in the past have known wars. Whether the battle fields were far away or at their very doors, the safety, the welfare and the education of their young were uppermost in their hearts. At all times they leaned on the Jewish heritage as a fortress of courage and strength for their children and for themselves.

"Torah is life," they said. In the history, the literature, the religious teachings and practices of Israel they sought inspiration and guidance, particularly in times of emergency, and they transmitted to their children this tradition . . . this eternal source of life and light.

In these days of screaming headlines and constant war talk . . . are your children being fortified through the inspiration and strength of a Jewish education?

Are they being prepared to live in the world of tomorrow?

Are the boys growing up with a knowledge of the Jewish tradition, of our rich literature, of the Bible, of our home and synagogue observances, of the Jewish community and its institutions, of our fellow Jews in other lands, of the achievements in Palestine?

Are the girls . . . the mothers of tomorrow . . . being equipped to conduct a Jewish home and to bring up their children as loyal, upstanding Jews?

The fate of your children is in your hands. Whether they will be happy with their Jewishness, whether they can meet anti-Semitism with inner security, whether they will do their duty as Jews of tomorrow, depends largely upon their parents.

Give your child a well-rounded Jewish education . . . an education which begins in early childhood and continues through the high school years. A smattering of knowledge is not enough. Do not be satisfied with a few months of preparation for Bar Mitzvah or a year or two of study for comfirmation.

The Jewish Educational Association urges upon you and every Jewish parent: Register your child on the opening day. If your child attended last year, have him or her return to school promptly. To receive the full benefit from the curriculum and study, your child should start at the beginning of the term with other students.

The Jewish Educational Association of Indianapolis represents the entire community. Its purpose is to increase the number of pupils in both the Hebrew Schools as well as the Jewish religious schools, to improve the quality of Jewish education and to extend its scope. The J. E. A. aims to help Jewish children to live happily, intelligently and with self-respect as Americans and Jews.

EPH PRETZFELDER has returned from his most interesting week's vacation. The Miami Club of Cincinnati has flourished there for forty years. Fifteen years ago, the members bought the club house they had been renting for more than thirty years. It is completely modern, has accommodations for its members and about thirty guests. It is twenty-five miles from Cincinnati on the Ohio River. There is a care-taker and as Eph says "Can his wife cook! ! !" Nathan Lichtenstein, Eph's cousin, had him at the club house as his guest for a week. Nearby, Eph's cousin showed him a forest of trees, many of them planted years and years ago by members of the Miami Club.

Revisionists Urge End to Terror

Special—

JERUSALEM—The Zionist Revisionist Party of Palestine this week addressed an appeal to Jewish extremists to cease their terroristic attacks against government institutions. It stressed that these acts are harmful to the Jewish cause.

The appeal, published in Hamashkif, official Revisionist organ, says: "Again we must tell the youth thaat this is not the right way. The recent outrages are not useful to the Jewish people and its aspirations. Such acts not only detract the world's attention from rescue problems, but also the attention of the Yishuv."

Terming the terrorism senseless, the appeal continues: "Shots and explosions silence the clamour of our brethren in need. Those who think otherwise are mistaken. Since those who have chosen terrorism speak about Hebrew patriotism, they ought to listen to the voice of the people and not assume the authority of determining the Jewish policy at their own discretion, a policy which is in conflict with general national interests."
